

Join the conversation

You're the only person reading this now. Tell your friends

Comment on Twitter

Read tweets

Top National articles

1. Gillard mum on Rudd 'resignation deal' claim
  2. Rudd's political ghost haunts Gillard
  3. Boy critical after horror causeway crash injures six
  4. Girls' school 'aggressive' over unpaid fees
  5. Police drug raids after clubbers rushed to hospital
- + More National articles

Story Tools

Share on Facebook

The idea clicked

THE election fun has begun in a website that makes you a candidate against Julia Gillard and Tony Abbott. Kym Illman's www.australia2010.com.au allows you to insert your name, or someone else's, in a news report. He originally registered www.election2010.com.au but the government revoked it, then he had to reshoot the video when the artist formerly known as prime minister Kevin Rudd was deposed. Illman created the site as a marketing exercise to promote his Perth-based Messages on Hold business and recruited Max Markson and 6PR host Howard Sattler to appear in the video. Last year, Illman, a pal of Warnie, rented his luxurious Gold Coast property to Brendan Fevola and wife, Alex. Warnie or Fevola for PM?

Stallion and two fillies

IT'S good to know the Victoria Racing Club's committee room is big enough for John Elliott, his partner, Joanne Hurley, and ex-wife, Amanda Elliott. At Flemington on Saturday, where the AFL Life Members & Carbine Club Handicap was raced, John enjoyed the red wine while Joanne worked the room in the presence of Amanda, a VRC director. Between sips John grizzled about Julia Gillard being PM. He despises the word